

Seventh grade Social Studies students pose with their timelines and project analysis responses as part of their Social Studies Performance Assessment. The timelines display important events leading up to the American Revolution. The written response explained the students' choice of the most important event on the timeline.

